Working Up Factions. NEW ORLEANS, September 3d .- A Picayune's Jackson (Miss.) special says: In an interview to-day Governor Lowrey made n substance this answer to general questions as to the state of affairs in Leflore

"On arriving at Greenwood I found some excitement among the people, not as I be-lieve from any fear of bloodshed between of the disturbance rendered information from there very difficult. In the meanwhile three military companies had arrived, and quite a number of volunteers from the surrounding counties of Carrollden

"After consultation, it was finally decided that the military instead of the citizen volunteers should be sent to Minter City to aid the Sheriff in enforcing the laws."

In conclusion, the Governor said he had no fears of further trouble. The Capital Light Guards of this city arrived here from Leflore county at 3 P. M. to-day. They report that there were 275 armed negroes congregated near Minter

HELENA (Mont.), September 3d.-The prest fires which have been raging in the nountains for the last six weeks are now apposed to have been extinguished by the eavy rain and snow which fell Sunday light. In the vicinity of Elliston and Ten Mile snow covers the ground to a depth of rom four to six inches. The fires raged ercely Saturday and Sunday. Fifteen undred people, it is estimated, turned out at Elliston and other places to fight the fire. They worked all night Saturday and until :30 on Sunday morning. DRESSED BEEF INDUSTRY. Testimony Taken Before the Senatorial Committee Yesterday. CHICAGO, September 3d. - At to-day's meeting of the Senatorial Committee on Dressed Beef and Transportation, A.C. Halliwell, of the Drover's Journal, was examined. When asked if he thought that the dressed beef industry was prospering in Omaha and Kansas City, Halliwell said it was gaining very rapidly. He thought that the depressed condition of trade in St. Louis was not due to a combination which discriminated against St. Louis dressed beef in favor of that shipped from Chicago. He had heard that three men were in a combination of that kind, but did not think it was for the purpose of diverting trade from St. Louis, as one of them had extensive matters their own way. I feared that if they went to the scene of disturbance in which they received $15 a car rebate on all meat shipped from Chicago, but the witness thought that that was discrimination against Chicago which that rebate did not overcome.

In the afternoon Charles E. Ingersoll was the first witness. He testified principally about the range of prices for cattle during the last ten years.

Joseph Eastburn, a stock-yards commis sion man, said he saw a marked change in the market of late years. While the supply of stock increased, the number of son of Superintendent of Police Murray, of buyers showed no prosportionate increase. He attributed this to the dressed beef men. Albert McCurdy did not think the dressed beef men manipulated the market. Fred. J. Rowland, a former chief bookkeeper and confidential man for Nels Morris & Co., was asked whether he knew of any argreement or combination had been killed, or the number captured, were very conflicting.

SECURING A JURY.

Questions Propounded to the Jurors in the Cronin Murder Case. CHICAGO, September 3d.-The Cronin trial was resumed to-day. New Orleans, September 3d .- News just received from Franklin, La., which is in the Third Congressional District, states that Deputy Sheriff Jacobs, a Republican, has been shot. The only particulars of the shooting of Jacobs at Franklin is the folowing account received by Chairman More of the Democratic Committee from John A. O'Neill, an old and respected citizen of Franklin: Jacobs had been troublesome and officious at the polls, and neither the Commissioners nor the bystanders knew that he was a Deputy Sheriff. When of the strikers late this evening. he was leaving the polls he was muttering threats. He drew a pistol and made a murderous assault on the bystanders and was shot down before he could fire. THE FRICTION AT THE SOUTH. The conflicts in the South between the whites and the blacks in certain sections have led several of our contemporaries into the expression of fears that there is about to be inaugurated a war of races. The Alta believes that the negro has been led by the stories of war in Hayti and the feats of colored soldiers there, into the delusion that he can here safely rise and put down the whites. We do not see any reason for such a conclusion. There may be a few men in the South who may have thus played upon the ignorance of certain of the colored people. But the masses of that race have neither the desire to rise in insurrection nor to be at enmity with the white people. The mass of them have interests, industrial and otherwise, with race war suicidal. The pocket nerve is the most sensitive, and the negro of the South is as fully alive to industrial possibilities that are opening up to him as are shall discontinue business will be deterany others. He is not likely to wreck everything by attempting to inaugurate a reign of terror, in which he finds himself $13,505 77, being the amount of sales opposed by the bayonets of the Government that above all things else he profoundly respects and fears. That there is unrest and more or less ill-feeling among the blacks at the South is undeniable, and at the risk of being deemed a political sensationalist, we venture the assertion most blameworthy for these undesirable conditions. They have drawn the color line in all affairs with a strictness that has left the colored man outside of rights and remedies that it his sovereign privilege to Juryman Elijah Comstock before the Trusenjoy. The fact that the white man in tees on Monday, but the officer finally conthe South has constantly engaged in denial of the right of the negro to better his the white man, goes a long way in acthere should be sporadic outbursts here sue therein. and there indicates that at remote points as well as in centers of population, some unusual or more than usually flagrant invasion of the rights of the colored man has been attempted, or, at least, that he so believes. THE LABOR PARADE. The labor parade in San Francisco on Monday was an orderly and well conducted affair. There was not an intoxicated man in the line, and the workingmen of the metropolis thus demonstrated their capacity to control the membership in the organized bodies, and to direct it in an orderly manner. The parade was a protest, or a petition, as it may be taken, against long hours of labor-that is, a demonstration for such division of the hours of the day as will afford the working forces of the land opportunity for reasonable recreation and rest. We apprehend that there is really no opposition to such adjustment wherever it can be effected by mutual agreement. There is no antagonism to the use of moral suasion for the shortening of the hours of labor somewhat, from the maximum that has obtained for most part in the past. But what the sentiment and justice of the country has opposed, and will continue to resist, is the attempt to coerce men into any policy in the matter. The strike and the boycott, as means to the end, cannot have favor, and are the weapons that most generally turn against those who invoke their use. The artisans and workers for wages demonstrated, to accomplish more by will be done on the third of October. driven—indeed, it cannot be driven. The American worker has come to this con

SECRETARY WINDOM has resolved to the regulations but never obeyed, requiring the Stars and Stripes to be floated from every United States building. Why the regulation ever fell into disuse is not explained. It is a wise order. There is not the slightest danger that our people will become too familiar with the American flag, or too deeply impressed with its symbolic character. The same order ought to be made by every State concerning all home and general circulation throughout the public buildings, and the flag of unity and freedom be seen floating in sunshine and in storm from every structure in which there is a State institution. The sum we would expend for bunting for this purpose would be considerable, but it would be well devoted.

Pursuant to that provision of the Constitution, the Legislaure, by an amendment to Section 103 of the Code of Civil Procedure, provided that there should be in each township of the various counties one Justice of the Peace to be elected by the qualified electors of the township; and that in cities having 10,000 and not more than 20,000 inhabitants there should be one Justice of the Peace, and in cities having 20,000 and not more than 100,000 inhabitants two Justices of the Peace, to be elected in like manner by the

It is claimed that inasmuch as there is no township organization in the city of Sacramento, there could be no Township Justice of the Peace. Brown had been has the power to authorize the eletion or appointment of Justices of the Peace within a district of a county called a township. whether it has any other internal organization or not. It will be observed that the Constitution does not make it a condition precedent that there shall be an organized ownsnip government to this exercise of of Justices of the Peace. The Court cannot affect to be ignorant of the fact that though this State has been in existence for more than a quarter of a century, there never has parted. been any systematic organization of township governments; yet the power of the particular district has never been questioned. It is now too late to question that power. I am of the opinion that Justice Henry is a Justice de jure; but if not, he is a Justice de facto, and, so far as these proceedngs are concerned, his acts are as valid as from his home at the Brown House, Fourth and K streets.

| The Brown House of Fourth and K streets | Fourth and K streets | Fourth as broken down the barrier which | seemed to mark the partition between acts of a judicial officer de facto and those of a ministerial officer. It will be conceded from Theodore Franks, the salesman, bedthat in England, from whence we derive sion for a particular term and for none other. Therefore it was that in that counry, under those laws, there could be no ch a thing as a Judge de facto, because, had his commission to hold a term of ourt, upon the face of his commission he had no other functions to perform. But in this country, where judicial officers are elected for prescribed terms of office, the the distinction ceases. The old maxim is that where the reason ceases, the law also ceases. In the case of the People against Wyman (15 Cal., 73), the question arose whether a County Judge acting de facto with the Associated Justices who were elected constituted a Court of Sessions. That case arose on an appeal from a conviction for manslaughter. The Court there said: "There is nothing in the point that the Court of Sessions in which the indict ment was found was not legally organized. The Convention at which the Associate Justices were elected was presided over by a person who was then acting as County Judge, and the fact that it was afterward determined that another person had been legally elected to that office did not render his official acts illegal and invalid." Under the then existing statute which created the Court of Sessions that Court was constituted of the County Judge and two Associate Justices. The Associates were elected by the Justices of the Peace of the county, and the Convention was assembled by the County Judge. It was there held that the act of the County Judge in presiding at the Convention of Justice was de facto valid. But the question was more directly pre sented in another case, where the convic ion was of murder in the first degree, and the defendant, as in the case at bar, moved in arrest of judgment. The second point that case is the only one that is material here to be considered. It was "that, admitting the act in question to be constitu-ional, so far as the creation of the Fifteenth Indicial District is concerned, the Governor had no power, under the Constitution, to appoint and commission a Judge of the ourt thereby created, as required and directed by the sixth section of said Act." It was decided in the first volume of the California Reports that the Governor had no authority to appoint a Judge to an office created by the Legislature-that is, to make an appointment for the first term; but that he could only appoint to fill vacancies which might occur after the office had been filled by election. That doctrine was affirmed in several cases, lastly in the ighth California.

Mr. Anderson—"Is that the rule now?

He entered, there fore, under color of right and title to the office, and become Judge de jacto if not de ure, and his title to the office cannot be uestioned in this collateral mode. The acts of de facto officers must be held valid as respects the public and the rights of third persons. A contrary doctrine, for obvious reasons, would lead to most pernicious results.' The case of the People against Carroll American Reports, 409) is exhaustive in the consideration of this question. Without reading from this decision, it is sufcient to state that there the accs of a Justice

Thus far he has met with sufquestioned upon the ground that the law under which he had been elected Justice was unconstitutional. The Court decided that the law was unconstitutional, and that the Legislature had no authority under the onstitution of Connecticut to enact the law under which he was acting; but, notwithstanding that, the Court held that the acts of the officer, until the law was de- out, ione up your system by taking Dr. J.

He is about 5 feet 4 inches in hight, of medium build, has blonde hair and mustache, and a pale face. He is described as being a good dresser and an excellent conversationalist. To give an idea of the manner in which he works, th following is taken from the Stockton Mail's account of his operations:

"At noon on Saturday the sleek operato went to Logan & Doan's furniture store on room furniture worth $48 25. He gave a our system of jurisprudence, Judges and other judicial officers received a commisthe members of the firm being absent. The young man received $19 75 change, and ordered the goods to be delivered this morning at a certain number on Rose street. After he had gone Franks stepped when the time had expired for which he across to John Hermann, at the Chicago saloon, and the latter cashed the check as an accommodation. #### YOLO IS NOT DEAD. The Woodland "Mail" Puts Life Into the Drowsy People. The Woodland Mail of yesterday has an article which proves that all the people of our neighboring county are not dead nor sleeping. With commendable enterprise the Mail has determined that Yolo shall be represented at the State Fair, and since the Business Men's Association has given it up that paper proposes to get up the exhibit. The article has the right ring, and we print it in full:

"Monday afternoon the committee ap-pointed by the Woodland Business Men's Association held a meeting in Lawson & Walker's office and decided to abandon further efforts to get up a Yolo county exnibit for the State Fair. This action was due, the committee alleges, to the lack of encouragement given them by the public "The Mail said some weeks ago that Yolo county must have an exhibit at the State Fair, and it meant it. We have determined to take hold of the exhibit and push it through, with the assistance of citizens. It shall be an exhibit which will be creditable to Yolo county-a better one than she ever before put up for the State Fair. "Men will be put in the field at once to gather together its elements. Every man's exhibit will be described and identified by tastily printed labels. The fair opens next Monday. Part of the exhibit will go forward Saturday of this week, and large addi tions on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of fair week. The perishable truit display will be replenished from day to day. The Mail calls upon all to cooperate with it in this matter."

Constipation. According to the San Francisco dailies a remedy has been discovered that with almost unerring certainty overcomes constipation. It is the new laxative principle in Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. The papers are full of recent occurrences confirming its efficacy, and we give place to their last sensation, a card from San Francisco's well known lady manicure. She says: " I am willing to relate the following experience. I have for years had a weak stomach attended with constipation, and never found but one preparation that helped me and that soon wore out and lost its effect, and I was again a sufferer till I tried Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It has thoroughly reorganized me. I had one of the most sensitive of stomachs and was in continual distress, but can with the aid of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla now eat any and everything with my old accustomed freedom. I am both surprised and delighted, and gladly recommend it."

As to some of the lots, the lower Court gave judgment for the defend-ant, and to the other lots gave judgment for the plaintiffs, from which judgment the appeal is taken by the defendant. THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE GOVERNS. Gibson (respondent) vs. The Board of Supervisors of Trinity County-In October, 1888, the Board of Supervisors of Trinity county ordered a general election, at which the question of the issuance of county bonds to the amount of $14,000, for purpose of building bridges, was to be submitted. At the said election, more than two-thirds of the qualified electors voting thereat voted in favor of the issuance of said bonds, but at several precincis a large number of the ballots cast for the issuance of said bonds were not counted, so that at the canvass of the Board of Supervisors of the votes returned, it appeared that there was not a two-thirds majority in favor of the bonds, as required by the Constitution and the Statute. Thereupon the Board made an order declaring that the proposition to issue the bonds was lost. The plaintiff then brought this action against the Board, praying that the order of said Board be annulled. The lower Court found all the averments of the complaint to be true, and entered judgment decreeing that the issuance of the bonds was carried. The Board then appealed from the judgment. The Supreme Court affirms the judgment.

A SACRAMENTO JUDGMENT AFFIRMED. Younglove (appellant) vs. Steinman-This was a suit to enjoin the enforcement of an assessment of the stock of a corporation on the grounds that the meeting of the Board of Directors at which the assessment was ordered was not legally called, and that the assessment was not made for any of the purposes allowed by law. A trial was had in the Superior Court of Sacramento county, which resulted in findings and a judgment in favor of the defendants. The case was appealed, but the Supreme Court affirms the judgment. THE LOWER COURT ERRED.

P. T. McClure and J. A. McClure (appellants) vs. John G. Colyear and Amanda Colyear, his wife—The defendants' demurrer to plaintiffs' complaint was sustained with leave to plaintiffs to amend. For their failure to do so within the time granted, their default was entered and judgment in favor of the defendants was thereupon rendered, from which plaintiff appeals. In regard to this case the Supreme Court says:

'The complaint expressly avers that both defendants knew of and always acknowledged the rights of plaintiffs until within sixty days next before the commencement of this action. The demurrer was sustained on the ground that the complaint was in-definite and uncertain; but we think it sufficiently certain to put the defendants to their answer. The judgment is reversed and the cause remanded for further pro-NEW TRIAL ORDERED.

A WATER-RIGHTS CASE.

Wilson vs. Devine-The question in this case is, whether the judgment in a prior action is an estoppel in this. In the first action Wilson sued Devine and wife for the diversion of twenty-five inches of the stream at his dam. Judgment was rendered for $1 damages, with an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with plaintiff's dam. The case is gone into with minuteness, and the Supreme Court concludes that the Superior Court erred in denying to the defendant the right to prove a prior appropriation above plain-tiff's dam, and in refusing to allow him to show that his right to such prior appropriation had not been litigated in the former action. The judgment is reversed. A NON-RESIDENT MAY BE AN EXECUTOR.

In the matter of the estate of Emeline V Brown, deceased-Emeline V. Brown died on the 16th of February, 1888, and at the time of her death was a resident of the city of Philadelphia. She left real property situated in the city of Sacramento of the value of about $15,000. She left a duly executed will, disposing of all her property to certain legatees who were non-residents of this State. In her will George A. West was named as sole executor. The will was duly admitted to probate on February 21, 1888, in the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia and letters testamentary were issued to said West. On October 6, 1888, a copy of the will and the probate thereof, duly authenti-cated, was filed in the Superior Court of the county of Sacramento, and E. A. Burr, a resident of that county, filed a petition asking that letters of administration, with the will annexed, be issued to him. S. B. Smith, the Public Administrator, also filed a similar petition. Afterwards George A. West filed his petition, stating that he desired to act as executor of the will in the State of California. The petitions were heard together, and an order was made admitting the will to probate and directing the issu ance of letters of administration, with the will annexed, to S. B. Smith, the Public Administrator. The petition of West was denied, because of his being a non-resident

In due time West moved the Court to set aside the order, denying his petition and granting that of Smith, and for a new trial, on the ground that the decision was from the order.

The Supreme Court says: "The record presents but a single question of decision viz.: Is a person who is named in a will as the executor thereof, but who is a nonresident of this State, and has never been therein, for that reason alone incompetent to be appointed executor of the will here?" After reviewing the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to proceedings in Probate Courts, the Supreme Court says that the lower Court properly granted his (West's) motion for a new trial, and the order is affirmed.

AN EJECTMENT SUIT. John M. Ward (appellant) vs. Julius C Matthews-This was an action in ejectment brought by plaintiff to recover possession of 320 acres of land. The judgment of the lower Court is affirmed.

E. Sloss, L. C. Morehouse, John P. Dunn. and E. W. Maslin, Secretary.

The matter before the Board was the consideration of the assessment of Alameda county. In relation to that business there were present Senator W. E. Dargie, the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, consisting of Bart. Morgan, Chairman; D. C. Brown, Hiram Bailey, W. S. Pelouze and David W. Martin, County Clerk Charles T. Charles taxed all property equitably, conscientiously, and with due regard for its market value. Various members of the Board of Supervisors took part in the discussion. Mr. Boardman directed attention to the fact that the exact purchase price of property was often put higher in the deeds, and also that appraisers of estates were usually not experts in real estate values. Senator Dargie dwelt upon the ratio of increase during Mr. Molloy's administration. In 1887 the total assessed valuation of Alameda county was $58,211,713; in 1888, $64,646,911; in 1889, $69,866,381—or an increase in three years of nearly $12,-

From remarks said to have been dropped y members of the State Board of Equal ization, it is believed that Assessor Moloy's tax levy will not be changed. Next Monday the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco are to appear and show cause why the assessment of that county should not be increased. The Assessor's increase in 1887 was over $20,000,000; in 1888, over $22,000,000, and in 1889, over $32,000,000.

AMUSEMENTS.

Announcement is made of the appearance at the Metropolitan Theater on Friday evening next, of the accomplished actress, Rose Coghlan, supported by the same strong company that was with her in her recent successful engagement at the Baldwin Theater, San Francisco. Miss Coghlan will appear first in the title role of the play "Jocelyn," written by her brother. Having seen "Jocelyn" performed, we are able to speak of it from personal knowledge. It is a powerfully wrought melo-drama giving Miss Coghlan the very best opportunity possible to manifest her dramatic strength and prove the art of a cultured actress. The drama is one with but a suggestion of numor in it, its movement being almost entirely upon a plane of profound tragic interest. It is rich in fine tableaux, and the story of the drama is of surpassing interest, giving a glimpse of life in a century when the nobility of France was torn by religious lissensions, and many of the most distinguished families were impoverished and became the prey of heartless adventurers. The company supporting Miss Coghlan is a very superior one, there being no weak timber in its construction. Monday and yesterday a large quantity of special scenery arrived for the use of the company n its brief engagement here. Saturday afternoon Miss Cogblan appears in a part original with her, "Stephanie," and that is in strong contrast with its assumption by a once favorite actress, Jeffreys Lewis, the sensational drama "Forget-Me-Not." Saturday night will be played Charles Reade's delightful comedy, "Masks and Faces," with Miss Coghlan in the character of Peg Woffington, in which she is represented as rivaling some of the most famous women who won success in that role. The public can rest assured of thoroughly good A RECORD UNION reporter went out to dramatic entertainment being given by the Brighton last night with Deputy Coroner company. #### NAGLE'S CASE

Taken Up in the Federal Court-The Assault on Judge Sawyer. San Francisco, September 3d.—The Nagle case was taken up again by Judge Saw-yer, sitting in the United States Circuit Court this morning. The Court at its last sitting in the case announced that the testimony of the witnesses of to-day would be taken before Judge Sawyer in the cham-Judge decided to hold open Court.

Since the last hearing of the case the Terry side suffered the loss of its principal attorneys, leaving Mrs. Terry without legal advisers to push the case against Nagle. This circumstance caused Attorney-General Johnson of Sacramento to announce that he would appear on behalf of the prosecution in the event of the other prosecuting attorneys failing to appear. Attorney Herrin, when the case was called, suggested to the Court that as the case was about to come up it would perhaps be advisable to review the entire case and the cause of the killing of David S. Terry, and, acting upon his own suggestion, made a complete but brief review of the case. THE STATE'S POSITION.

Attorney-General Johnson replied to the learned counsel of the petitioners. He gave notice that he would, as Attorney General of the State, appear in the argu ment upon the question of jurisdiction but would take no part in the taking of testimony, although he would appear with the District Attorney of Stockton in the Terry side without a representative, when Attorney Herrin, for the petitioner, com-menced introducing evidence tending to show the previous character of the Terrys, and the matters connected with the suits against the Sharon estate.

The first witness called was Judge Walter Van Dyke of Los Angeles, by whom it was desired to show the violent character of Mrs. Terry, and to recite the incidents connected with the assault on Judge Sawyer by Mrs. Terry on the overland train from Los Angeles. The witness gave a very interesting account of how Mrs. Terry had, while passing the Judge, pulled his hair and acted in a violent manner. Judge Sawyer listened to the account of
